December Meeting

What a perfect day for a Christmas Party! A light dusting of snow, good food, marvelous handiworks and good friends all made for a very pleasant day. We started off at my house for appetizers and progressed to Amy Evans' home for lunch and dessert. It was a fun, fun day. There was no business conducted other than holiday frolic.

Notes and Announcements

Library -- At this month's meeting, we will be setting up our library. Tina will bring any supplies we need; all we need to bring is a some time and our enthusiasm. If you have any books or magazines you'd be willing to donate to the library, they would be welcomed. Library procedures will be published in next month's newsletter.

Spinners -- Anyone wishing to spin after the meeting this month is welcome. Bring your wheels. Also, procedures for borrowing the Guild's new drum carder will be published next month.

Convergence '90 -- HGA's biennial Convergence is imminent. Anyone planning to go should register as soon as possible. If you need more info, contact Amy Evans, Marcy Petrini or me.

Congratulations -- Marcy has made it to the last level of selection for the HGA board. The next step is the vote of HGA members. If you are a member, please don't forget to vote. Wouldn't Marcy be a great representative to the board from Mississippi and from the South?!

From the Director's Bed:

The Christmas of No-Running-Water is past, the children, grandchildren and my dad are back in Georgia and Texas and normal routine is creeping up on us. Seems like all I did was boil water and wash dishes. How for granted we take such things as dishwashers and flushing toilets! But the family was together and it was good.

A holiday note from Shelly Leichter in Phoenix brought another ornament for my tree - a delightful boundweave Santa. I'll bring it for Show & Tell. She writes she enjoys keeping up with us through the newsletter - but, Shelly, we'd like a news letter from you!

I've been looking over my books on weaving, trying to pick one or two I can bear to let go live in the Guild's new library. I'm passionately attached to most of my books so this is hard, but I console myself with the idea of all those other books I will be able to bring home for a visit!

See you Saturday -

Gerry
