Dear Guild Members:

Many thanks to all of you for asking me to come back in and serve as president after having to take a year off. I am really looking forward to serving with the newly elected officers and Lu as past-president, and to sharing new programs and fun experiences in fiber with each and all of you!

We all appreciate the work and commitment of our outgoing officers, committee members and all those who have volunteered or offered help in any way. The programs have been great. Thank you.

I look forward to seeing you in June at Kathy's home... come if you can, and share in the special summer felted hat workshop that Patricia and Sharon are providing.

Always—
Winki

Summer Felting Workshop - June 11

Patricia Holmberg and Sharon Williams are providing a great summer felted hat workshop on June 11, at 10 a.m. at Kathy Cohron's home at 414 Lake Cavalier Road in Madison.

If you are attending, please call Kathy at 601-856-6698 or e-mail her at Ccochron1@bellsouth.net so she will know how many to expect and can have tables set up for us. Bring your lunch. Kathy will be providing drinks.

Patricia has kits and fibers for the workshop. Contact her at Creative_angoras@littlebitacres.com for prices and other information.

Happy June Birthday!

Your Ideas Needed for CWSG Programs

We are planning programs for next year's Guild meetings. To keep them enjoyable and informative, we need your input. If you have ideas, preferences, or comments relating to programs, please send them to Debbie Stringer at news@epaofms.com. Thanks!

Meeting Minutes: May 21, 2011

Lu Harding opened the meeting by welcoming everyone. Liseanne Miller, owner of P is for Primitive, presented an informative program on scrap rug hooking, from how it was done in years past and how it is currently done. Thanks, Liseanne.

Business meeting:

1. The group discussed the possibility of having an Independent Study Studio at the Tougaloo Art Colony. After discussion, it was decided those interested will get together and work out the details. Debbie Stringer agreed to be the contact person. If you are interested, the dates are July 17-22. Contact Debbie at news@epaofms.com.
2. Once again, Sharon Williams invited CWSG to partner with her in an exhibit at the Mississippi Craft Center in February 2012. The theme will be Birds, Blooms, and Butterflies. Only those who are members of the Craftmen's Guild will be able to sell their items, the others will be for show. CWSG will also be responsible for the refreshments at the opening on February 7, 2012.
3. Sharon Williams had fiber samples for those participating in the felted hat workshop. The workshop will be conducted by Sharon Williams and Patricia Holmberg at the home of Kathy Cohron on June 11, 2011, beginning at 10 a.m.
4. Lu thanked everyone for their support during her term as president and presented the officers during her term with a token of appreciation. Thanks, Lu.
5. Lu, as exiting president, was presented with a weaving pin, a CWSG tradition.

Tougaloo Art Colony Studio? July 17-22

If you are interested in sharing a studio during the Tougaloo Art Colony, July 17-22, at Tougaloo College in Jackson, please e-mail Debbie Stringer at news@epaofms.com as soon as possible. Debbie is compiling a list of those interested (you don't have to commit) that she will circulate in a week or so. Those on the list can then make their plans to register.

The participating group will rent a studio for use during the colony. The hours are roughly 8 a.m. into the evening. Everyone would bring a project, whether weaving, spinning, knitting, rug hooking, sewing, and can come and go at their convenience. The group would have a key to secure the room.

The cost for a studio accommodating 2-4 people is $275. A larger studio for 5-10 people is $375. The final studio cost will be evenly divided among participants when the group registers.

You can find out more about the colony at www.tougaloo.edu/artcolony.
